THE NELLIE BLY STORY

BEFORE THERE WAS ERIN BROCKOVICH
BEFORE THERE WAS SILKWOOD
BEFORE THERE WAS SHINDLER'S LIST
THERE WAS NELLIE BLY

Based on her sensational book, 10 DAYS IN A MADHOUSE tells the true story of world renowned journalist, Nellie Bly who, at 23 years old, feigned insanity and had herself committed into the notorious Blackwell's Island Insane Asylum. Working for Joseph Pulitzer and the New York Times, Bly went undercover to expose the atrocities, corruption, abuse and murders that took place in the asylum.

This historical thriller shocks audiences with the brutality of the nurses towards patients, some of whom Bly believed were as sane as she was. Bly's "Ten Days in a Mad-house" ultimately changed the way the world cares for the mentally ill, by shining a light on these unspoken crimes.

Starring Caroline Barry, Christopher Lambert, Julia Chantrey (Mean Girls, Mama), Kelly Le Brock (Weird Science, The Woman In Red), and Russian star Alexandra Callas.

TAP WORLD

“Rhythm is the language of life...Go just about anywhere, and folks are stamping their feet to communicate.”, says Tap teacher Ted Louis Levy.

Tap World documentary takes us on a journey spanning six continents and over a dozen countries to demonstrate that this primarily American art form has taken on many new lives around the world. The film showcases several dancers, their take on tap, and their personal experiences learning and living the art.

Watching fresh interpretations of tapping by performers from Australia, Taiwan, Russia, Spain, Japan, South Africa, India, France and Brazil, as well as urban neighborhoods throughout the United States, you'll grow to appreciate the power of tap as an art form that can absorb and reflect, whatever any culture serves it. No matter where they reside, these dancers all reveal a burning desire to dance – often despite economic and social obstacles. Tap heals their souls.

Director: Dean Hargrove

'Tap World', an engaging new documentary... is an uplifting tale of the dance form's curative powers.

'Tap World' also takes viewers around the world, and that, plus some flat out terrific performances, make this a surprisingly lovely little film.

LAURA BLEIBERG / LA TIMES

“Tap World,” is an infectiously spirited and pleasingly celebratory documentary about the globe-spanning appeal of American-style tap dance.

A gritty psychological drama reminiscent of The Deer Hunter or Deliverance, where friends turn against each other in a desperate bid to survive an unknown enemy.

WIND WALKERS is the story of a group of friends who travel to the remote Florida Everglades where they discover that an ancient, malevolent curse is tracking them. When the youngest of them is lost to a trail of blood, they soon realize that the only thing being hunted is themselves. Trapped and facing starvation they slowly begin to disappear, only to reappear craving human flesh. Is it the fabled Wind Walker... the beast of Indian legend that rides the winds that possesses them? Or is it their own madness? Seared to their shotguns and chased by starvation, they must face off against a devilish truth that will either destroy or consume them... Wind Walkers.

LOVE ADDICT

A womanizing attorney is unable to have sex after a hypnotherapy session to quit smoking goes awry and he seeks help from one of his clients, an uptight psychiatrist, who teaches him that there is more to women than just their bodies.

Owen Maxwell is a charismatic, Porsche-driving Los Angeles divorce attorney and an incredible womanizer. Owen signs up for hypnotherapy to help him stop smoking, but when the hypnotherapist – who happens to be one of Owen's many forgotten lovers – decides to get some revenge and “cure” Owen of his sexual attraction to women. What follows is a downward spiral of Owen's playboy lifestyle when he become physically sick whenever he becomes turned-on, forcing him to go through “detox” with the aid of Eileen, a no-nonsense therapist who runs a rehab center. During the course of treatment, Eileen falls for a vulnerable Owen when he reveals his more sensitive side to her. Now Owen must decide if he feels the same way about Eileen while at the same time tracking down the hypnotherapist who started the whole mess.

THE SHEIK

THE UNFILTERED AND SHOCKINGLY ENTERTAINING STORY ABOUT THE IRON SHEIK (KHOSROW VAZIRI).

The Sheik was selected as Hot Doc's 2014 Special Presentations collection.

Once the most outlandish of professional wrestlers, Khosrow Vaziri - a.k.a. The Iron Sheik - is now, at 72, the most outrageous personality on Twitter, a man who routinely shocks even Howard Stern. But the story behind the oversized personality is raw, touching, emotional and almost unbelievable.

THE SHEIK tells the real life story of "The Iron Shiek" and how he started as an impressive athlete from Iran who built his occupation in America as a professional wrestler. He was banned from the WWF at the height of his career after being busted for cocaine. His life spiraled out of control after that as well as from the death of his oldest daughter. Broke, handicapped, and on the verge of divorce, a family friend got his life back on track and The Iron Sheik stepped back into the limelight as a social media God. THE SHEIK has a very positive, touching ending.

Sirius is a feature length documentary that follows Dr. Steven Greer - a medical doctor turned UFO/ New Energy researcher - as he struggles to disclose top secret information about classified energy & propulsion techniques. Along the way, Dr. Greer investigates new technology and sheds light on criminal suppression. He accumulates over 100 Government, Military, and Intelligence Community witnesses who testify on record about their first-hand experiences with UFOs and with the cover-up.

In the course of his research Dr. Greer is asked to look at an amazing find: a humanoid specimen, 6 inches long from the Atacama Desert. Not until 2012 was he given permission to take bone samples and DNA from the specimen. At that same time a pre-eminent geneticist, hearing of this find, offered to do DNA testing. He enlisted an MD from the same university, - world renowned for his work with skeletal anomalies, to view the x-rays and CT scans. Their expertise along with Dr. Greer's expansive knowledge of the subject bring more questions than answers. Where did this 'Atacama Humanoid' come from? Are there others like it? What does it say about the origin of the human species?

While on this odyssey, the audience gains a whole new perspective on technology, human evolution, and clandestine organizations who have manipulated and controlled the public for centuries.

HUMBLE PIE 2009

It's hard not to like Tracy Orbison (HUBBEL PALMER). An introspective Midwestern stock-boy, Tracy passes his days scribbling poems in a notebook during shift breaks and day-dreaming of making something more of himself... although there's already quite a bit of him.

In a moment of enlightenment, he enrolls in an acting class taught by a pompous local actor (played by a hilarious WILLIAM BALDWIN). Things don't quite go according to plan, and a tragically comical chain of mishaps leads Tracy to take a more active role in his life. He mentors a young delinquent, fends off his obnoxious mother (Academy Award® Nominee KATHLEEN QUINLAN) and wallflower sister (MARY LYNN RAJSKUB, Julie & Julia, and hit TV series 24), and attempts to conquer the elusive driver's exam. A different kind of everyman, Tracy Orbison reminds us that the caution light flashes even while chasing our dreams.

"If originality and eccentricity were prime rib, this film would be clogging arteries..."
